Electronic Cloneable Key System

NEW

Electronic Cloneable Key System

A modular approach that will accommodate a variety of transponder equipped vehicle applications with a minimum investment. This modular system of a universal head and separate blades offers stock versatility and lower inventory cost.

The most expensive component of transponder and electronic keys is the chip or electronics contained in the head. An Ilco electronic key provides the benefit of lower inventory cost. One head, 14 blades covers 17 makes and over 190 models.

Clone previously "un-cloneable" transponder keys at the counter using Ilco electronic keys and a RW4 or Ilco EZ[®]-Clone equipment (no PC, internet connection, or software purchase required)

- Eliminate the need for two functioning keys that are required for On-Board Programming
- Key head contains a replaceable, lithium battery (CR1632)
- Mis-cuts, no problem, simply discard the blade, reuse the head
- Modern, sleek, two-part key design, proportionally sized to original key.

Electronic Key Head:

Fits all of the blades below
